
Knowledge Exchange Programme on Youth Homelessness

Helping Young People feel at home in Scotland

Listening to Young People's Voice

“One person can make all the difference”

“The problem and the solutions are based on the professionals’ approach”

“Engaged young people begin with engaged practitioners”

“Don’t give up on us”

Key recommendations from the Programme “Helping Young People feel at home in Scotland: building collaborative and integrated services for and with youth homelessness” funded by the Scottish Universities Insight Institute and developed by the University of Dundee and University of St Andrews (2019)
